PROJECTS

BLOG WEB APPLICATION — 2024

The Blog Web Application is a platform that allows users to share project ideas, publish blogs, and engage through comments. It includes secure authentication, user profile management, and an admin dashboard for efficient content moderation. The system ensures smooth performance, scalability, and a responsive interface for seamless user experience. The project promotes collaboration and knowledge sharing among programming enthusiasts within an interactive environment.

DIGITAL LEARNING PLATFORM — 2025

The Digital Learning Platform is an interactive web application designed to enhance student learning through engaging lessons, quizzes, and progress tracking. It provides a clean, user-friendly interface that ensures smooth navigation across devices. Enhanced collaboratively, the platform emphasizes accessibility, usability, and effective content delivery. It helps learners monitor their progress while creating an engaging and interactive learning experience.

CAMPUS HEALTH HUB — 2025

The Campus Health Hub is a web-based application expanded using Spring Boot and MySQL to efficiently manage vaccination records within a campus. It allows students and staff to register, update, and view their vaccination details through a secure and responsive interface built with HTML and CSS. The system includes admin features for verifying records, generating reports, and monitoring campus-wide vaccination compliance. Designed for accuracy, scalability, and user-friendliness, the platform ensures effective health record management and promotes a safe and well-monitored campus environment.
